SEN. KORDING

Minneapolis' 32nd District

Sen. Herman L. Kording has a pair of legislative accomplishments that give him real satisfaction.

He helped author the legislation creating the office of investment counselor to the state investment board, to provide the expert day-to-day financial nursing of trust and retirement funds that boosts their earnings.

And in 1955, he plugged Kording successfully for establishment of a permanent committee to guide the state's multi-million dollar building program. Mpls. Star

Kording, 55, is a plain-spoken, earnest Liberal, active in the DFL party. He served his district in the house in the 1953, 1955 and 1957 sessions before running successfully for the senate in 1958. Jan. 1961

He and his wife live at 3533 S. 36th Av. and have three children. They belong to the Holy Trinity church.

Kording is a member of the Masons, Scottish Rite and Shrine and active in the Selim Grotto Masonic group, donning clown makeup for its entertainment excursions to state institutions.
